

Mission Statement

Encore Theatre Company, ETC seeks to produce performing arts programming of the highest artistic integrity. In fulfilling that mission, Encore aims to:

Educate:

Provide opportunities for entertainers, designers, technicians, and directors that furthers their experience and training in the art of theatre and performance.

Honor theatrical arts and its disciplines by sharing with the community and remaining true to the craft.

Enrich:

Develop partnerships and programs with other businesses, service groups, and arts organizations in the community.

Bring together participants from all backgrounds and communities throughout the region to share in the magic of live theatre.

Encourage respect, cooperation, collaboration and creativity to each other and the community.

Entertain:

Provide an experience by which audiences can learn and grow.

Inspire the community to participate in and embrace theatre arts.

Involvement

We love people. Today's busy world makes it difficult for people to be a part of more extra curricular activities. Theatre involvement can really take time.

But there are many activities that do not require a major investment in your time or money. At Encore, we respect the needs of individuals and families to make time for other things. You can still be a part of Encore.

There are several "behind-the-scenes" positions that we try to divide into manageable tasks. If you have ever wanted to get your feet wet, let us introduce you to the exciting world of community theatre.

Sponsorship

Ticket sales alone do not sustain the financial needs of Encore. Only through the generous support of contributors can we bring you, our audience, arts and cultural presentations of the highest quality.

We invite you to share in our dream by becoming an annual contributing member of the Encore family.

The levels of sponsorships and the benefits you receive are:
